TROOPS ARE NOW IN CUBA

Landing Was Safely Effected Near Santiago Yesterday

BRISK FIGHT WITH SPANIARDS AND CASUALTIES REPORTED

Washington, June 7—Special—Dispatches received here leave no doubt that the American fleet is bombarding the forts of Santiago harbor. It is not believed that Sampson contemplates taking the city and capturing Cervera's fleet from the water, but is merely keeping these busy while troops are landed and take their station on the heights surrounding the bay. It is believed that at least 25,000 Americans have been landed, and these will be reinforced by an equal number of insurgents all well supplied with field and seige artillery. News of the capture of the city and of the surrender of Cervera would surprise no one here, and such intelligence is expected almost hourly.

Kingston, Jamaica, June 7—Special—The American troops landed at Daiquiri were nine hundred marines; three regiments of infantry, three batteries of artillery, and a battalion of engineers. The attack by the American warships began at 7:45 and ceased at eleven. The fire was tremendous. Earth and mortar leaped into the air from the explosion of the giant shells. No body of troops, masked batteries or ambuscade could have survived. As soon as the American troops landed heavy firing was heard in the rear of the Spaniards It proved to be from a body of insurgents, who were said to be attacking Santfago.

The Landing of Troops.

Washington, June 7—Special—When the American troops landed near Punta Cabrera yesterday they received a hearty welcome from the Cubans. The latter had made a thorough inspection of the region round about for the purpose of discovering any ambuscades the Spaniards may have planned as a greeting, but none were found. More than a score of Americans were found among the Cuban troops, most of them officers. They were overjoyed to meet their countrymen, who are hereafter to be their companions in arms.

The Spanish version of yesterday's engagement admits serious losses. The twenty-one wounded will die. The forts protecting Santiago were ruined. This report says the American marines landed at Daquire, and were joined by insurgents. Later they were attacked by a Spanish detachment, but held their position and threw up trenches, afterward landing heavy guns under fire of the American warships.

London, June 7—Special—Dispatches from Havana deny that American troops have landed in Cuba.

A Lively Bombardment.

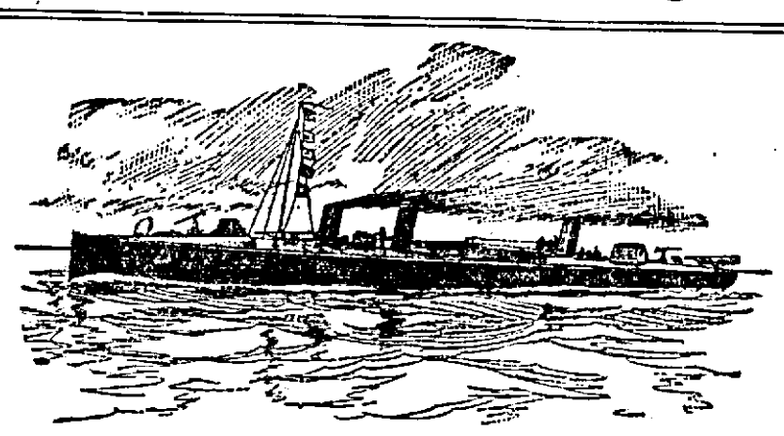
New York, June 7—Special—Cape Haytian gives what purports to be the American account of the bombardment of Santiago yesterday. The engagement lasted over three hours, and the Spanish ship Reina Mercedes is reported badly damaged. The second Spanish commodore and five sailors are said to have been killed, and a lieutenant and twenty-one soldiers seriously wounded. Three other artillery officers are reported wounded. The bombardment at Aquidores was renewed at noon. Fourteen American warships are said to have participated, and fifteen hundred shots were fired by them.

Landing at Buiquire, fifteen miles east of Santiago is reyorted, and heavy firing is said to be going on there now. Reports say the Spanish forts were riddled by shot. The Americans are said to be about to join the insurgents in a direct attack to the city of Santiago.

London June 7—Special—According to reports received here of yesterday's engagement at Santiago, the American landing party was repulsed with considerable loss. The loss of Spanish soldiers and the injury to the Reina Mercedes are admitted.

Off For Cuba.

Tampa, Fla., June 7—Special—Large bodies of troops have started for Cuba. Their destination is doubtless a point near Santiago. The greatest secrecy is maintained in military circles as to the point of landing, which will not positively be known to those on board the transports until it is under way. The men are in good spirits at the prospect of meeting the Spaniards, and they do not care where they go so long as they have an opportunity to do some fighting.



TORPEDO BOAT FOOTE.

The Foote is named in honor of Rear Admiral Andrew Hull Foote. She has a displacement of 142 tons, a steel hull, an indicated horsepower of 2,000 and carries three torpedo tubes.

SUITS TOO HEAVY TO SUIT

Policemen Complain of Their New Uniforms On Account of Their Warmth.

Members of the Janesville police force are already finding fault with their new uniforms. Not that they don't look and fit well, but on account of their being so uncomfortable for this kind of weather.

The uniforms are made of heavy wool cloth that is more adapted to Klondike weather, and to say that the officers are uncomfortable in them these days when the thermometer is 90 above is putting it mildly.

It is said that they will discard them for suits of summer weight.

While here he made the purchase of several hundred cases of leaf, the greater portion of which was purchased in the vicinity of Stoughton and Edgerton. He also purchased considerable leaf direct from the farmers. Of local dealers he made several purchases, the goods to be shipped east.

NEWS FROM THE GOLD FIELDS

John Connors Writes of the Prospects of Janesville Men

John Connors, who left Janesville several weeks ago for Alaska writes home from Wardner, British Columbia, where he and his party have been spending the winter. He reports Wardner and vicinity as being rich in gold mines and that miners and mine speculators are there from all parts of the world.

Mr. Connors and a party of prospectors were in Wardner a year ago when the town was no place, but not knowing the value of the country then they abandoned claims that have since proved of great value. They report several parties returning from the Klondike where they had lost all the money they had.

At 7:30 o'clock last evening Drs. Whiting and Woods examined the unfortunate man and found him to be insane, recommending that he be taken to some hospital for treatment

CAMARA IN REBELLION

GREAT BRITAIN STILL STANDS BY THE UNITED STATES

Madrid, June 7—Special—Dismay pervaded government circles today when it became known that Admiral Camara had practically refused to put to see with his fleet of warships. The refusal was implied rather than direct. He simply stated that it would be suicidal to attempt to cross the Atlantic with vessels that would become a prey to the first storm that would arise, and folly, if the voyage was accomplished, to engage the ships of the American navy in combat. He pointed out that his ships were unseaworthy, poorly armed and equipped, and no match for the superb warships of the United States. Of course he will obey if he is peremptorily ordered to sea, but he will sail with the consciousness that defeat awaits him in his first naval battle. The gravity of the situation has been intensified by this new incident.

Havana Is Impregnable.

Havana, June 7—Special—There is no fear among the Spanish troops or residents of the capture of the city by the Americans or insurgents or by both combined. This is doubtless the best fortified city in the world, and every approach is guarded by mines, that would destroy an invading force no matter how strong. The only danger feared is from famine. The city could be starved into surrender in a very few weeks, for the supply of provisions on land is already too limited for the needs of the people. A strict blockade of the port combined with an investment of the city on the land side would compel a capitulation, but no assault could be successful. In anticipation of a seige Blanco is husbanding his provisions and gathering in all that can be obtained from the surrounding country. The city will be the last of the Spanish strongholds to capitulate.

Matters Are Tangled.

Washington, June 7—Special—Telegrams from army headquarters to Tampa have directed that the work of carrying on the Santiago and Porto Rico expedition be rushed regardless of cost. Gen. Miles wires that matters are in a fearfully hopeless tangle.

Washington, June 7—Special—The situation this morning is unusually confused by conflicting rumors. It is known there have been operations of a serious character at Santiago for the past three days in connection with the landing of troops. The report that Sampson has entered the harbor and engaged the enemy is not credited.

Merely a Diversion.

Washington, June 7—Special—No decisive results are expected from yesterday's bombardment of the forts in Santiago bay. The cannonading was heavy, but was maintained, it is thought, for the purpose of keeping the troops busy while a landing of Americans was effected a few miles east of the city. Sampson is acting in harmony with plans made and instructions issued several days ago After the forces have been landed the fleet will remain quiet until the time set for the combined land and naval attack, when it will be heard from.

England Remains Friendly.

Washington, June 7—Special—The report from Berlin that Great Britain will join with other powers to compel the United States to leave Spain in peaceable possession of all her colonies is ridiculed at the British embassy here. Such a step would be in direct conflict with the government's avowed policy. It is stated positively that no action of the other powers will influence England, and that she will remain the fast friend of the United States, throughout the pending conflict, no matter what other powers may do.

Miles Knows It All.

Jacksonville, Fla., June 7—Special—A Spanish document has fallen into Gen. Miles' possession giving our army of invasion complete knowledge of how the Spanish troops are distributed around Holquin, Santiago province, where it is intended to land the invading army.

MR. COOPER AIDED THE ADMINISTRATION

PRESIDENT THANKS HIM FOR HIS SERVICE.

Groundless Talk Of His Opposition to the Chief Executive Is Disproved By the Presentation Of the Facts In the Case—A Plain Statement.

The Beloit Free Press effectually disposes the talk of Congressman Cooper's having "opposed the president." as follows:

In a recent issue of the Elkhorn Independent its editor, sin referring to Congressman Cooper, makes the following strange assertion: "He (Mr. Cooper, was patriotic, and espoused the Cuba cause in every way, but he went too far when he marked out a course for himself, when he insisted by voice and vote upon recognition of the present Cuban government."

If the editor of the Independent had been fully informed of the real facts connected with the action of Mr. Cooper upon the Cuban matter it is fair to suppose that he would never have made an assertion which the facts in the case so emphatically disprove.

Mr. Cooper has been, and is, the loyal friend and consistent supporter of the pre ident. When he was putting forth his best efforts to compass his nomination to the presidency, some of those who are now criticising his position on the Cuban matter were doing their utmost to defeat that nomination. From that time to this Mr. Cooper has been President McKinley's steadfast supporter, as no one can deny who possesses a clear knowledge of the proceedings of the House committees and the public action on the floor of congress. When the Cuban question was being debated previous to the president's message, on more than one occasion Mr. Cooper voted against the recognition of the republic of Cuba to the end that the president should have every opportunity to adjust the difference with Spain by diplomacy. At last open revolt was threatened by a large number of republicans in the house,—of which, however, Mr. Cooper was not one,—who declared that unless definite action was promised in the immediate future they would vote with the democrats to recognize the Cuban government. Upon this threat, a few republican members of which Mr. Cooper was one, held a consultation, at which it was decided to call a conference to prevent such action, if possible, and to map out a plan to be followed. This conference was held, and Mr. Cooper was made one of the committee to wait upon the president and discuss the situation with him. Before this could be done a resolution for recognition came squarely before the house, but, in pursuance of the understanding reached at the conference, the republican representatives (with possibly one or two exceptions of which Mr. Cooper was not one) voted in the negative.

Shortly after, possibly the next day, the conference committee called upon the president and had an interview with him lasting upward of two hours. Speaking for the committee, Mr. Cooper assured the president of their confidence in him and of their earnest wishes for his success and for the success of the party of which he was the head, and stated that if it had not been for the action of the conference at which the committee before him had been appointed a sufficient number of republicans would have voted with the democrats to carry the resolution for recognition offered by the democratic leader. To this statement of Mr. Cooper, which was corroborated by other members of the committee, the president said, in substance: "From what I have learned I believe the statement of Mr. Cooper is true, and I am under great obligations for the services thus rendered to me and to the party."

Upon the return of the committee to the capitol the conference of republicans re-assembled, more than one hundred being present. Mr. Cooper was called upon by Congressman Hopkins of Illinois to give his views concerning the interview with the president. Mr. Cooper did so, and further said that in his opinion the conference should take no action but that all republicans should vote together and give the president more time as he desired. When Rep-

Salt Rheum
Has Disappeared

How It Was Cured.

"Salt rheum appeared on one of my wrists, extending nearly to the elbow. It troubled me for a year. Then it disappeared from this arm and came out on my other wrist and arm, also on my face and head and different parts of my body. The itching was beyond description. No medicine that I tried would do me any good. One day I got a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and began taking it. I found it helped me. I procured another and when I had taken it the itching was relieved, and the third bottle cured the eczema on my face and head. Hood's Sarsaparilla keeps my system toned up and gives me a good appetite." C. E. HAINES, Aitkin, Minnesota.

A PLEA FOR THE OLD FLAG

Some Care Should Be Taken of the Banner on the Armory.

Janesville, June 7—Editor Gazette: I was embarrassed and must say annoyed, at the prominence given to my name in connection with the new flag for the Armory. While I make no assumption for patriotism, more than any in the city or vicinity, and have no means to push more liberally, than any others, I cannot look upon Old Glory, the flag of promise, without feelings of inspiration. The unity of feeling in this respect is simply sublime. During my morning walks I have daily observed the torn, tattered, faded flag over the Light Infantry Armory. But recently the brave, bright sons of liberty marched from under the sacred folds of Old Glory, and being inspired, have marched to fields of danger and death, for its maintenance and supremacy.

It seems befitting that a new flag should be erected in place of the old, and that a guardian should be employed to care for the same, and that by a simple notice of the matter the response would be more liberal than the emergency requires. A proper respect for "Old Glory," requires its lowering at sun down. The erecting of a new flag will also encourage the boys at the front to learn of the home endorsement and of memories far but dear to them.

The feeling of the veterans of the late war during the great and heartfelt parade, recently given to the young patriots from our city, who were going forth to conquer or die, that the starry diadem should prevail, and in the future shall be pushed to the uttermost parts of the earth, was pathetic. Very Respectfully,

EDWARD G. HARLOW.

Afton

Afton, June 7—Notices have been posted by the town board of supervisors announcing that they will meet at the highway crossing on the Chicago & Northwestern railway just east of the railway bridge, on June 16, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of considering an application made to them to change the location of a portion of the highway running east from the village on the south side of Bass creek. The change as contemplated will remove the road from the bank of the creek north of the Holzapfel residence, and locate it on the line between the Eldredge and Holzapfel farms, where it will run east to a point near the rock cut and thence under the railroad, connecting on the east side with the road as at present located. By this plan the dangerous grade crossing just east of the railroad bridge would be done away with and the road be taken from its present close proximity to the high bank of the creek near Holzapfel's, both splendid reasons for making the change. Fred B. Smith has opened a meat market in the Hill's store building. On account of the closing exercises of Afton school, which will be held at Lawton's hall, next Saturday evening, Frank P. Starr, venerable consul of Afton camp, M. W. A., has called the next regular meeting of the camp for Friday evening, June 10. All members will please make a note of this change. Afton was well represented at the big Woodman picnic at Rockford last Thursday. Bear in mind that the Children's day observance at the Baptist church has been postponed from the second to the last Sunday in June. Afton school commencement exercises will be held at Lawton's hall next Saturday evening, and give promise of being of an interesting character. The graduating class numbers three and they will receive their diplomas at the hands of Superintendent Throne. J. G. Noack and family, of Baraboo, visited briefly with Afton relatives last week. Superintendent David Throne went to Madison Tuesday morning to attend the semi-centennial celebration. He is a member of the advisory committee of twenty-five. Ross Andrews, of Jude, is visiting at J. B. Humphrey's. Mrs. Lillian Otis Eddy and son Charles, came up from Kenkakee, Ill., last Saturday for a visit with relatives in this vicinity.

resentative Hicks of Pennsylvania asked: "Mr. Cooper, I want to ask you if you are satisfied with what you learned at the interview? Do you think that we had better stand together?" To this Mr. Cooper replied: "Yes sir, I am satisfied, and I think that we should vote as we have been voting," whereupon Mr. Hicks remarked: "Very well; if you are satisfied about that, I am." Mr. Hicks is a strong friend of the Cubans, equally with Mr. Cooper, and was satisfied with Mr. Cooper's judgment that it was their duty to support and sustain the president in his position.

The conference was adjourned at the call of the chairman and thereafter Mr. Cooper in common with the other republican representatives continued to work in cordial support of the president.

At last, in his message, the president informed congress and the country that diplomacy had failed and that he had turned the whole Cuban question over to congress and declared his willingness to do as it might direct. Accordingly congress took charge of the subject.

The house passed resolutions "directing" the president to intervene to establish a stable and independent government in Cuba, but only "authorizing and empowering" him to use the army and the navy.

Prior to the passage of this resolution, a consultation was held with the house committee on foreign affairs, at which the resolution as prepared was read. It did not contain the word "independent," but only declared that Cuba should have a "stable" government. Mr. Cooper stated to the committee that autonomy might provide a "stable" government with sovereignty in Spain, and that such a resolution could not pass the house. This consultation adjourned without reaching a decision. Another consultation between the house committee on foreign affairs and the conference committee of which Mr. Cooper was a member was held late at night, and after a protracted discussion, the word "independent" was incorporated in the resolutions, and on the next day were reported to the house and adopted and sent to the senate.

To a large number of republican representatives these resolutions as they merely "directed" inter ention, (which may be either peaceful or armed), and left the use of the army and navy discretionary with the president, thus in effect conferring the war making power upon the president when it is the prerogative of congress, but Mr. Cooper with other republicans loyal to the president, accepted them in furtherance of the determination arrived at in the conference to sustain the president.

The following Saturday night the senate passed a very different set of resolutions, which declared that the Cuban people "are and of right ought to be, free and independent," and also recognized the government of the Cuban republic. The next day (Sunday) was devoted by republicans to earnest work in an endeavor to determine the course of action to be pursued by the house. Mr. Cooper frankly stated that he liked the senate resolutions because they were vigorous, plain and unequivocal, but that in deference to the president's views, he would vote for them with the recognition clause stricken out, provided that the rest of the resolutions were retained. In this position a great many of the president's best friends concurred.

It was a surprise to many republicans when on Monday in the house a motion was made to concur in the senate resolutions, but with an amendment striking out not only the clause recognizing the republic of Cuba but also the other clause declaring that the people of Cuba "are" free and independent. Mr. Cooper and many others refused to vote for the resolutions if both clauses were to be eliminated. They felt that before our soldiers and sailors started for Cuba this government should at least declare that in so far as it was concerned the Cuban people were no longer the subjects of Spain. They did this, not because they were enemies of the president, but because they were convinced it was the right thing to do. Besides, they knew that to strike out the clause declaring that the people of Cuba "are" free and independent would be to strike out a prominent feature of the resolutions reported by the majority of the senate committee on Foreign Relations and supported by such staunch republicans and loyal friends of the president as Davis of Minnesota, Frye of Maine, Lodge of Massachusetts and other senators of that committee. To such elimination Mr. Cooper and others knew the senate would never consent and besides, they saw what seemed an attempt on the part of those bitterly opposed to any intervention whatever to tie the whole matter up in conference. The amended senate resolutions were nonconcurred in.

Later in the evening of that day the understanding was arrived at in conference and conversations that a compromise could be effected by restoring the words "and are" and eliminating the recognition of the Cuban republic, so that the declaration would concern the "people" of Cuba and not the "government" of the Cuban republic. When the motion came up after recess to concur in the resolutions as passed by the senate, Mr. Cooper, loyal to the president, voted in the negative, as the resolutions recognized the government of the Cuban republic. The resolutions agreed upon in conference of the house and senate committees were then adopted and approved by the president.

We have endeavored in the foregoing to give a clear and succinct narrative of the official action of Mr. Cooper upon the Cuban question. Just where he can be justly charged with being antagonistic to the president is not visible. To thus charge him is as sensible as to charge the republican senators who voted as Mr. Cooper did as being followers of Bryan. Senator Thurston among others voted for the resolutions as they passed the senate and yet during his whole political life he has at all times been the warm personal and political friend of William McKinley. The same is true of Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, and others.

In very truth, the position of Mr. Cooper from the hour of the first conference called to devise plans to render harmless the threat of impatient republicans to join with the democratic minority in passing a resolution of recognition up to the moment when the senate was compelled to accept the compromise eliminating recognition, Mr. Cooper was the staunch, faithful and able friend of the president, and by his efforts and those equally loyal accomplished what the president so strongly desired, namely, the non-recognition of the present so-called government of the Cuban republic.

But for that conference of republican representatives who were faithful friends of the president and of whom Mr. Cooper was prominent and influential, the house would have adopted resolutions recognizing the government of the Cuban republic and so also would the senate, the very thing the president was so anxious should not be done. By that conference the president's purpose was accomplished and no member of the house was more influential in its accomplishment than was Mr. Cooper.

AGITATORS' PLANS FAIL.

Poor Time to Change.

Ashland Daily Press—Governor Scofield is said to have owned a cow, a mild-eyed, docile kind of a bos, noted for her milk-giving qualities and genial disposition. This cow has become the center of attack by the anti-Scofield people, who by the way are mainly an inconsiderable lot of agitators who are looking for office. A Spanish bull fight isn't in it compared with the manner in which these brave and valiant fellows have attacked poor bos. As a matter of fact, Governor Scofield has been attending strictly to the duties of his office, and has had little time to attend to the cow fighters. Incidentally, he has made a great record by his business-like method of handling the Wisconsin volunteers whom he prepared for service and sent to the front ahead of any state in the union. There has been no criticism of his official conduct as governor, and it is a poor time for a change of governors just now.

Two Parties' Patriots and Traitors.

The Boscobel Dial-Enterprise talks sense as follows: If our republican friends in this Third district, who are attempting to perfect an organization to overthrow the management and defeat the aspirations of certain other republicans in order to secure control themselves and preferment for their own especial friends, succeed in their efforts, will they not have constructed a political machine which may be obnoxious to other members of the party? How would it do to stop all this dangerous talk about machines and go in together as republicans to extend republican theories and to select and elect republican candidates. The republican party in the Third district, and in Grant county especially, is strong, but is not strong enough to carry on an internal warfare, and at the same combat its political opponents. All efforts should be made at once to unite rather than divide our political councils and forces.

Story a Boomerang

Cambridge News—The cow in politics again. This time Assemblyman Hall who, in order to prove that Gov. Scofield was friendly to the railroads, asserts that the governor had his cow franked down from Oconto to Madison. Mr. Hall had brooded on the subject so long that his imaginations were magnified and in a moment of desperation he appears in print, opposing the re-nomination of the governor on those grounds. 'Twas a boomerang, but it fell right in Hall's camp as the cow turned out a Bull on Mr. Hall.

Slaps the Machine

The Eau Claire Telegram slaps the Eau Claire machine in this manner: "We have no comment to make on these attacks at this time except to say that we believe the authors thereof will live to be heartily ashamed of such methods of political warfare and that at the present time they are beneath the notice of anybody except for the purpose of giving the people light on the character and the calibre of the governor's enemies."

Should Lead the Cow.

Catholic Sentinel—Gov. Scofield ought to be defeated He had no right to carry his cow to Madison in a first-class carriage, and so many poor office hunting republicans walking afoot. This is not a free country for cows, and the governor should have led her by a rope, fed her by the wayside, and slept with her under a tree, after the good old fashion.

Hall Is Insincere

Waukesha Argus, Rep.—By that communication Mr. Hall shows himself to be insincere and capable of resorting to falsehood in order to prejudice the public against one whom he knows only too well cannot be controlled by any faction or clique, but is broad enough to be just, regardless of whether it pleases the clique to which Mr. Hall belongs or not.

Story Is Too Thin

Menasha Evening Breeze, Rep.—There is something so narrow—so thin—so infinitesimal in the claim of Assemblyman Hall that Gov. Scofield used his office to save about $10 for shipping a cow to Madison from Oconto, that the cranky assemblyman's fight against Gov. Scofield's renomination bids fair to secure his renomination unanimously even before the primaries are held. Gov. Scofield has made a good record; is fearless, and the state would profit again by his administration of affairs.

What Soldiers Think.

Milwaukee Journal, Democrat—If the Wisconsin boys in the field vote, then we will know just what they think of the charge that Gov. Scofield interested himself in their behalf to make political capital for himself.

MR. COOPERS WAR RECORD.

An article printed on another page shows that the charge that Congressman Cooper opposed the administration in the Cuban matter is untrue. Mr. Cooper has been a staunch supporter of the administration, and President McKinley personally thanked him for his aid in carrying out the policy of the administration, and preventing the house from adopting resolutions recognizing the Cubans, which the president didn't wish to have done at that time. No man was more influential in the conference that resulted in successfully carrying out the president's wishes, and Congressman Cooper's efforts were fully appreciated by the president.

Beloit Free Press—An exchange describes a situation which is known in every newspaper office, when it says that a man doesn't think of the feelings of his mother when he gets into a disgraceful scrape of depravity, but he expects the editor to have the tenderest regard for that mother's feelings and to omit the mention of his name in telling the shameful story.

The republican congressional convention for this district will be held at Elkhorn probably sometime in July.

THIS IS A STATE HOLIDAY

Official Business Was Suspended In Honor of the State's Birthday

But for the closing of the banks and courts one would not have realized that today was a holiday in Janesville. In honor of the semi-centennial celebration that took place today in Madison commemorative of the fiftieth anniversary of the admission of the state into the Union, Gov. Scofield proclaimed today as a legal holiday.

Many people throughout the city did not seem to be aware of this fact, and they wondered why it was that the banks were closed. The municipal court was open for business this morning, but at the court house the greater portion of the offices were closed. Nothing looking towards celebrating was undertaken.

WHY THE FIRE BELLS TOLLED

The Only Calamity Causing It Was Disarrangement of Electric Wires

The ringing of the fire bells this morning at intervals of a minute, gave many people the impression that they were tolling out of respect to some departed hero. Many thought it was to let the public know that some terrible disaster had befallen the United States navy at sea.

Many were the inquiries at both engine houses and the fire laddies were kept busy informing the public that it was all caused by the breaking of a wire on the west side.

SERVANT GIRLS ARE SCARCE

Rockford Trying to Get a Supply from This City.

"Girls wanted for Rockford."

In front of a North Main street intelligence office the above sign appeared today written in bold letters on a blackboard that stood on the sidewalk, and which attracted no end of attention. As the numerous applicants inquired they were informed that good servant girls are scarce in Rockford as well as in Janesville, and that housekeepers and hotel proprietors are paying good wages to the right kind of girls.

"The great trouble is we have hard work in getting good girls," said the lady in charge, "but as to the applicants there are many; but are unable to fill the bill."

THEY WILL BE HAPPY NOW.

HAS FALLEN INTO BAD HABITS

Former Hostler at the Jail Becomes the Occupant of a Cell

Charles Harmon, who has been boss hostler at the jail for several months past, was placed behind the bars today charged with being helplessly intoxicated. Harmon resigned his position at the jail a few days ago to work for Mr. Lewis, of the town of Rock. This morning he was sent to town, but instead of returning he got beastly drunk. While working at the jail he made an excellent man, and the jail officials are surprised at his conduct.

COMMON COUNCIL GRINDS ITS GRIST

CONSIDERABLE BUSINESS WAS TRANSACTED LAST NIGHT.

Monthly Reports Received, Inspected and Approved—Street Improvements Asked and Ordered and Grades Established—A Large Number of Minor Matters Considered.

At the regular meeting of the common council last evening Mayor Thoroughgood occupied the chair.

Charles L. Fifield, on behalf of the Myers estate, asked that the license upon the opera house be remitted. He claimed that the amount charged was exorbitant and unfair, and its imposition was a burden which made the investment an unprofitable one. Last year Mr. Myers paid $270 26 taxes on the opera house and it was no more right to ask him to pay a license on his opera house than it would be to make the owner of a store on the bridge pay license, where the revenue derived is twice that of the opera house. Mr. Fifield said he had prepared an ordinance, fixing the license at $25 per year, which he had left with an alderman.

The matter was referred to the license committee, who subsequently reported in favor of leaving the license as it is at present, which was adopted unanimously.

Reports Received.

The treasurer's report for May went to the finance committee, and the reports of the board of education for the months of April and May were presented. The report for April showed $3,309 10 paid out and for May 3,071.61. They were referred to the committee on schools, who reported them back as correct.

A communication from the board of education, certifying that $23,000 would be needed for the maintenance of the public schools for the coming year in addition to the $2,500 appropriated for the Adams building, was read and referred.

The matter of the grading of South Williams street was referred, and the plans for the grading of South Third and East streets were adopted.

Permits were granted to Ed. F. Carpenter and R. J. Richardson to erect new buildings.

The street commissioner was instructed to have the gutters of the city cleaned under the direction of the aldermen of the ward.

Street Improvements

Alderman McLean reported that a new sidewalk would shortly be laid in front of the postoffice, and that the committee had put new railing and walks on the south side of Pleasant and Fourth street bridges. The contract had been let to Knox & Hazen, they being the lowest bidders. Their bid was $152.

Orders were adopted as follows:

By Alderman Peters—Directing the city clerk to have published the specifications for grading South Williams street and that on the 20th of June, 1898, the council would act in relation to the work mentioned therein and that sealed proposals for the performance of the work will be received by the city clerk up to the time of opening the proposal, the work to be finished within thirty days from said date.

By Alderman Carpenter—For a sidewalk on the south side of Ruger avenue in front of lot 1, block 3, and also on the north side of Ruger avenue in front of certain farming lands.

Alderman Fifield submitted an ordinance defining the limits of North Jackson street and South Jackson street. The ordinance provides that all that portion of Jackson street lying north of the center line of West Milwaukee street and extending to Mineral Point avenue shall be North Jackson street and all that portion lying south of the center line of West Milwaukee street and extending to Rock River shall be called South Jackson street. Passed.

Street Grades.

The mayor was instructed to borrow on June 10, 1898, $1,500, to be placed to the credit of the school fund.

Alderman Carpenter introduced a communication signed by ten property owners in the Third ward, consenting that the city may change the grade of East street between South Second and South Third streets, and may also change the grade of South Third street between Wisconsin and Jackman streets to conform said East and South Third streets to the grade now established by said city, the intention being to lower said streets about two feet at the corner of lot 4, block 9, in the original plat of Janesville, and at the expense of the city funds and not at the cost of the signers.

The deed of Sarah Allen of land needed for a highway in front of her property was accepted.

The council then adjourned till next Monday evening.

HOG CHOLERA BREAKS OUT

Several Cases Are Reported From Jefferson County

Menasha, Wis., June 7—H. P. Clute state veterinary inspector, was in Jefferson and in the vicinity of Fort Atkinson today to look after hog cholera cases. Inspector Clute took immediate decisive action in the case and quarantined the stock yards and also the premises of the following farmers: W. Marshall, Edward Montgomery, George Kiler, H. Kregle, Chris Haas and Richard Royce.

The quarantine will be the means of preventing any of the above named farmers from disposing of any hogs for at least six months or until all trace of the hog cholera have fled. The stock yards will be disinfected. The hog cholera was introduced by a carload shipment of shoats from the Chicago stock yards which is a very unusual occurrence.

HELD TO BAIL.

Hartford, Wis., June 7—The preliminary hearing of Nicholas Bauer, who shot Adolph Graeven, took place yesterday before Justice Root. Two witnesses were examined, Adolph Graevan, the victim, and Dr. F. W. Rogers. The latter testified that Graevan was shot six times. Three of them entered the head, two grazed the skull and one struck above the heart and is still imbeded in the muscles. Dr. Rogers said it was his opinion that Graevan will recover, as all the wounds, though quite serious, are not in vital places. Bauer was held for trial in $5,000 bail.

ALMERINE M. CARTER EXPIRES SUDDENLY

Went There to Attend the Reunion of Members of the Constitutional Convention—Had Been in Poor Health For Several Years Past—Other Deaths.

Almerine M. Carter, of this city, died suddenly at Madison this afternoon, where he went to attend the reunion of the surviving members of the Wisconsin constitutional convention.

The cause of his demise was a complication of diseases attributed to old age. The remains will be brought here for interment.

A Sudden Taking Off

The news of the death of Mr. Carter will no doubt be a great surprise to his many Rock county friends, for it was only yesterday that he left for the Capital City in unusually good spirits.

Mr. Carter spent the greater part of his life as a farmer, and has for many years enjoyed the respect and confidence of a host of friends. He was born in Litchfield county, Conn., October 4, 1814, and was the oldest of a family of five children, three boys and two girls, and was named after his maternal grandfather, who was a wealthy merchant in Pennsylvania, and who lost his life at the burning of a theater in the city of Richmond, Va., in 1811. He was educated at Hamilton Academy, N. Y., from which he graduated in 1832. On moving to Wisconsin he settled in Johnstown, where he made his home for a number of years prior to his removal to this city. Mr. Carter was a member of the state legislature and a member of the Johnstown Fire Insurance Co.

Has Been Ailing Long.

Of late Mr. Carter has been steadily improving from a long siege of illness, and it was thought he was fully able to make the trip to Madison, where he wished to attend the reunion of the survivors of the constitutional convention of which he was one of the five living members.

Of late years Mr. Curtis has made his home at the Park Hotel in this city.

M'KINLEY IS IMPATIENT.

Annoyed Over the Inactivity of the Army.

HE WANTS SANTIAGO TAKEN.

Gen. Miles Was Over-Confident as to the Condition of the Troops—The President's Wish Is to Humble Spain Quickly and Save Bloodshed.

Washington, June 7.—President McKinley is growing impatient at the delay in moving troops against Santiago, and is said to have begun an inquiry to locate the responsibility.

The forces at Tampa and Mobile were supposed to be ready to board the transports last Monday, but unforeseen complications arose to delay the embarkation.

Now that the heroism of Naval Constructor Richmond P. Hobson and his companions has sealed the fate of Admiral Cervera and his fleet beyond the shred of a hope of escape the president is more anxious than ever for a movement that shall strike a crushing blow at Spain.

President McKinley has insisted the troops should be properly equipped before entering upon a campaign, but he had been given to understand the military organizations at Tampa and Mobile needed for the Santiago expedition were prepared for the undertaking, with the possible exception of light uniforms. Most of the expedition is to consist of regulars, and it had been General Miles' boast that they left their old stations for the front full panoplied for the war.

The president wants action and has insisted the army must take quick advantage of the successes gained at Santiago, but he has been told from day to day that the army could not move, and it is gossip in high circles that he is demanding an explanation as to who is to blame for the procrastination. It is even rumored that the responsible official will feel the weight of the commander-in-chief's displeasure in a form more effective and disagreeable than a mere reprimand.

As a result of the president's insistence on quicker action Secretary Alger has dispatched his military aid, Maj. George H. Hopkins of Detroit, to straighten out the tangle at Tampa.

President McKinley aims to humble Spain as quickly as possible in the hope that she will sue for peace and bring the war to a close without the necessity of an invasion of Cuba in force and a long campaign against Havana.

Call Blockade Ineffective.

London, June 7.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Madrid says that the cabinet at its meeting Saturday decided to notify the powers that the blockade of Cuba was ineffective. Capt. Gen. Blanco reports that he has received coal, ammunition, provisions and dispatches as easily as though the blockade never existed. He has, therefore, been enabled to reinforce several points on the coast where the Americans may possibly try to land. He is convinced of his ability to repel any attempt at landing.

Michigan Troops Leave.

Camp Eaton, Island Lake, Mich., June 7.—At an early hour Monday the Thirty-fourth regiment began its preparations to break camp, and long before the hour fixed for departure everything was in readiness. At 10:30 o'clock the regiment was massed by companies in front of the governor's headquarters. The governor made a short address to the men. At 10:45 o'clock the Thirty-fourth boarded three sections of the train in waiting and left for Dunn Loring.

Wisconsin's Additional Volunteers.

Madison, Wis., June 7.—Gov Scofield has received orders from the federal adjutant-general regarding the second call for volunteers. The state will have to send twenty-five men under this call to each of the companies, to bring them up to 106 men each. Recruiting officers from the regiments will return to fill each company from the town or city which furnished it. Any new companies needed will be taken from places that have not already sent men to the front.

For Iowa's New Recruits.

Des Moines, Ia., June 7.—The officers of the state of Iowa are to have no authority or part in recruiting volunteers under the second call to fill up the companies in the four regiments in service to their maximum strength. Furthermore, the recruiting officers cannot be compelled to accept volunteers according to the apportionment by Gov. Shaw.

Will Not Name Lew Wallace.

Washington, June 7.—Gen. Lew Wallace of Indiana will not be a major general. President McKinley has decided that he cannot make this appointment, which would have gratified so many friends and admirers of the distinguished soldier and author, because of his age.

Will Not Accept Regiments.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 7.—There is a vast amount of disappointment here over the news that under the new call for volunteers Indiana would not be asked to furnish another regiment; that the government was after men and not organizations.

May Move the Camp.

Camp Alger, Va., June 7.—A board has been appointed to make a thorough inspection of a site offered for a suitable camp for the troops now stationed here. The proposed site is situated below the city of Alexandria, Va.

Rioters Beat Back the Police.

Belfast, Ireland, June 7.—There was serious rioting here Monday, growing out of the celebration of the events of 1798. The police attempted to stop a fight between the Orange and the Nationalist mobs, when they were set upon by all of the fighters, who overpowered them and drove them to their barracks. Several of the police were severely injured, chiefly by stones hurled by rioters. The mob held the streets until they were dispersed by a detachment of dragoons. Many of the rioters, both Orangemen and Nationalists, were injured.

Bank Officials in Danger.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 7.—United States District Attorney Wishard has brought to this city the books of the Mount Vernon bank, whose cashier is under indictment for embezzling $60,000. Bank Examiner Caldwell has arrived to assist in the examination of the books. It is believed that interesting discoveries have been made and that there will be indictments of bank officials hitherto unsuspected.

Republican Women Meet.

Springfield, Ill., June 7.—The state convention of republican women met at 10 o'clock this morning in the senate chamber for the principal purpose of deciding upon a candidate to be presented to the regular state convention of the party for nomination as member of the board of trustees of the University of Illinois. The women now have two members of the board, but they want the third one.

Galesburg, Ill., June 7.—At Monday's session of the Augustana Swedish Lutheran synod the Rev. Almer and Prof. A. O. Bersell of Rock Island were elected synodical auditors. C. E. Springfield, Ill., June 7.—The Canadian-American Legion of Chicago has formally tendered a full regiment to the governor. The muster rolls are complete and were received at the executive office today. George A. Baynes is the lieutenant colonel of the regiment, and in tendering it he states he has been authorized to ask Col J. Mac. Tanner to accept the colonelcy.

Administration Has Decided on the Terms of Peace.

WE WILL HOLD CUBA IN TRUST

The United States Will Be in Control Until a Stable Government Can Be Established—Naval Base and Port in the Philippines to Be Retained.

New York, June 7.—A Washington dispatch to the Commercial Advertiser says:

The terms of peace upon which the administration has determined to insist are as follows:

Cuba must be delivered to the United States in trust until a stable government can be established there by its inhabitants, or some other disposition must be accepted which will insure its ultimate independence.

Porto Rico must be ceded absolutely to the United States.

The United States must retain a naval base and a port in the Philippines.

The United States must have a naval base in the Ladrone islands, and one in the Caroline islands.

These conditions are the least which the administration will accept, and they are the least which the senate will consent to have embodied in a treaty which must come to the senate for ratification.

The items enumerated are suggested primarily by the president in person.

The president has been assured that they meet the approval of leading republicans in the senate.

RUMORS OF COMING PEACE.

Diplomatic Circles in London Think War Is Nearly Over.

London, June 7.—There are persistent reports in diplomatic circles, especially in London, that peace is not distant, and that both Spain and America are anxious for it. A reflection of these rumors is seen in the continued buoyancy of Spanish 4s, although no confirmation of peace rumors is obtainable from any source.

On the contrary, it is said on good authority in Berlin that Spain has not yet sued even for mediation, while the powers, retaining an unpleasant remembrance of the rebuff to their former efforts at Washington, are not likely to renew their attempts unless there are clear prospects of a successful issue.

The article in the St. Petersburg Novosti, calling on Europe to raise its voice and to adjudicate upon the American claims, meets with no sympathy. The Berlin and Vienna papers especially express astonishment at such an attack from Russia, and openly characterize it as a piece of effrontery. The Paris papers are no better pleased with what they regard as a Russian attempt to enbroil France with the United States by spurring her into intervention.

To Supply Urgent Deficiencies.

Washington, June 7.—In the senate Monday Mr. Hale (rep., Me.) reported from the committee on appropriations the house bill making appropriations to supply urgent deficiencies in the appropriations for the support of the military and naval establishments for the fiscal year 1898. The bill was immediately considered and passed, with a few unimportant amendments. The bill appropriates $17,720,000, $5,000,000 being for the subsistence department, $10,000,000 for a naval emergency fund, $1,000,000 for the bureau of supplies and accounts, and $1,000,000 for clothing and small stores for the naval service.

Revenue Bill Sent to Conference.

Washington, June 7.—The committee on rules Monday agreed to report a resolution for the consideration of the war revenue bill in the house. In accordance with the terms of the resolution introduced by Mr. Dingley on Friday last. It provides that the house shall non-concur in the senate amendments, engross without debate, and send the bill to conference without instructions.

Republicans Win in Oregon.

Portland, Ore., June 7.—Scattering returns from the city and from five interior counties indicate the election of the republican state ticket. The vote for congressman in both districts will probably be close.

WILL ACT ON HAWAII.

House to Take Up the Newlands Resolution This Week.

Washington, June 7.—Consideration of the Hawaiian resolution in the house depends, in a measure, upon the rate of progress made with the war revenue bill in conference. "If it shall appear today," said Mr. Hitt, chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, "that an agreement is likely to be reached on Wednesday, the Hawaiian matter will not be called up until after the conference report be disposed of. But if an agreement is not in the early prospect, the Newlands resolution will be taken up Wednesday, and after two or three days' debate, voted upon."

The house Monday made a special order for today of the bill to enable volunteer soldiers in the field to vote for representatives in congress at the time of election next November, and if the discussion of this measure be in any degree protracted, it will have the effect of delaying the presentation of the Hawaiian resolution until Wednesday. In any event, however, friends of annexation confidently look for a vote upon the Newlands resolution this week, and declare that it will pass by big majority. But it is not altogether certain that favorable action in the house will be followed by similar action in the senate, although the proposition is relatively stronger there than in the house. It was said by a member of the committee on foreign relations, and an advocate of annexation, that the senate wanted to dispose of certain other matters before the Newlands resolution was taken up, and thus have a clear field for its consideration.

Milwaukee Carnival Week.

Carnival week at Milwaukee, June 27 to July 3, will rival the Mardi Gras at New Orleans. Those having the celebration in charge believe that the Wisconsin festivities will even be more attractive than those of the far famed southern city. At New Orleans there are only three evening attractions. At Milwaukee there will be six days and six nights of endless festivities. The grand pageant, illustrating the history of Wisconsin, will consist of twenty floats. There floats are rapidly nearing completion and are said by the contractor, who has devoted his whole life to this business, to be the finest he has ever yet constructed. He says there has not been a day since that time that he has not had this remedy in his household. He speaks of it in the highest praise and takes much pleasure in recommending it whenever an opportunity is offered. For sale by People's Drug Co.; corner Main and Milwaukee streets.
